LOGGERS TO MEET NAVY GRID TEAM NEXT SATURDAY

First Game of Season Will Be Staged Saturday in Local Arena

Saturday is the first big day on the 1923-24 athletic calendar for the Loggers. Our team will meet the Naval Training School team from Bremerton in a football game that is expected to be a hard fought contest at 2.30 in the Stadium. The invaders will be composed of veteran grid men, and players who have a reputation of fast footballers.

The weights of the two teams will be about the same. Word has been received that the Training School team will average about 175 pounds. They have some All-Navy men in their line-up, one man from Norte Dame and one from Carlisle Indian School. Our men are of the opinion that a hard game will have to be played on the part of the Loggers if we are to win, but at the same time they express the opinion that C. P. S. will come out on the long end of the score.

McNeal is working the team in tackling, blocking, passing, and he has also given them a few plays to learn. The fellows are working hard, to get into proper condition, and there is a spirit shown out in practice each night that is hard to beat. In scrimmage the line shows up to advantage. They have weight, experience and fight. This makes a combination that is hard to beat.

Just who will hold down the end and punting jobs is rather uncertain. Stevens and Graham were going great as ends, but last week Stevens could not get out for practice and Graham had his tonsils removed. Blevins seems to have the punting duty shoved on him, but Hall is being looked over this week in hopes that he can fill the bill. Parker at quarter, Olene at full and Allerdice and Wellman in the halfback positions are showing nicely, but it is uncertain just who will start in the backfield as well as on the line. How the men show this week will decide their positions.

It is up to the student body to advertise athletics for the college, and in this way show the athletes that we are behind them. We can make this the most successful year in athletics the college has ever known. Let's go and show some pep.

Miss Olive Brown entertained some of the faculty members, "the new and single ones" at her home at Parkland last Thursday evening. The guests drove out and spent the evening playing games.

Harry Earle, who spent three years at C.P.S. and finished at Columbia University in 1921, will graduate from Drew Theological Seminary in March.

PARISIAN FLAPPER DIFFERENT FROM AMERICAN

The flapper of Paris is bolder than the American flapper, thinks Miss Anna Crasper who with a friend spent the past summer touring Europe. "One can see her sitting out on the sidewalks drinking champagne and smoking cigarettes, and altogether appearing very dashing indeed.

"The large cities abroad are very similar to those in our own country except that they have many quaint old places which we do not have, and then there also are no frame buildings, all being built of stone and brick masonry.

"The French people are very bitter against the Germans because of non-payment of the war indemnity. Their conviction is that Germany could pay if she would.

"The devastated area of northern France and Belgium is almost beyond description. Work of rebuilding has almost come to a halt since the money which France was to receive has not been forthcoming. One French gentleman told me that the seizure and occupation of the Ruhr was the only thing that saved their country from another German invasion.

"Wines and other beverages are very much a part of the Frenchman's meal. In order to get good water which one knows is pure, an extra charge of twelve cents is made. This water is bottled and shipped from Switzerland."

In the opinion of Miss Crasper our own mountains and especially Mt. Tacoma, are far more beautiful than even the well known Alps.

"When we visited England, we found the cities crowded with idle men, there being in London alone a million men without jobs. Crippled war veterans went about the street selling such things as shoe-strings and lead pencils for a bare living.

"Few Englishmen have cars, partly because, as everyone knows, the English are a great race of walkers and are very fond of hiking, but perhaps the biggest reason is the expense connected with ownership. For instance, a man owning a Ford has to pay a luxury tax of twenty-five pounds a year in addition to the state tax and license."

Miss Crasper spent the entire summer abroad, leaving Tacoma June 6th and arriving home again on Sept. 13th. She reports a very enjoyable trip but thinks that the U.S.A. as a permanent place to live in cannot be beaten.

Be there. 2.30 p. m. next Saturday. Tacoma Stadium.

TICKET SALE IS PROGRESSING

The season ticket sale is going in great style, and it is up to us to put it over in a style that will be of credit to the old school. Remember the sweater for first prize, the pillow case for second and the big pennant as third prize. These prizes alone are worth going after. If you have no tickets to sell now, get some from the book store.

We have got the old fight and spirit that is necessary to put the sale across, now let's go and show 'em what C. P. S. can do.

NEW BUILDINGS TO BE BEAUTIFUL SAYS DR. TODD

Inviting Appearance Will Prevail
in Home for College of Puget Sound

According to President Edward H. Todd the new College of Puget Sound will be an expression thruout of the purpose of the institution.

Jones Hall, the first building now in the process of erection, will carry out Doctor Todd's idea. The architecture will be done in churchly style, so that it will be evident to all that it is dedicated to the training of young people in strength and character and high moral aspirations. The policy will be continued of harmonizing education with the principles of the Christian religion.

The center of devotions will be a small chapel in Jones Hall with a seating capacity of one hundred and twenty-five. This place will be set aside for purely religious purposes. Here people may come and meditate, but study in this chapel will be entirely out of place. A beautiful stained-glass window has been presented and altogether the room will be given over to worship, meditation and prayer.

In addition to the chapel, there will be a large auditorium in Jones Hall that will seat about eight hundred people. The stage will be fully equipped for plays and religious pageantry. It is expected that this auditorium will be completed for commencement next June and Jones Hall will be ready for the fall term of 1924.

Two other features of this first building will be the tower and reception parlor. The tower will be sixty feet high with several offices and a telescope room for the study of astronomy. The large reception room and parlor will be on the first floor. Here the students and faculty and their friends may gather and spend many pleasant social hours.

Doctor Todd received his idea of the architecture of Jones Hall at the University of Chattanooga, Tennessee. It was there also that he became impressed with the academic quadrangle, which will be observed in the plans of the new college. This plan has received universal endorsement by all who have studied it.

As these buildings slowly rise upon the new campus, after years of planning by those who first conceived the idea of a new college of Puget Sound, they will be a heritage to future generations. They will be an inspiration and a blessing to the thousands who will tread their halls.

The faculty are trying to obtain their full unit for the Washington Educational Association. Many members are planning to attend the W. E. A. Convention in Seattle about the last of October.

SENIOR WOMAN'S HONORARY Otlah Club

In the spring of 1922, the faculty promised the student body a surprise. True to their word, on Scholarship Day, which comes early in May, they announced the granting of a charter to a Senior Women's Honorary Society. Eight senior women and four junior women were pledged during the impressive ceremony. The qualifications for membership as stated by the faculty and later incorporated into the constitution are threefold: Scholarship, womanly character, and participation in school activities. The scholarship requirement calls for an average grade of 90, with no grade below a 3.

These pledges, with the help of the faculty committee, completed the organization, announcing as its name the Indian word Otlah.

Each May, on Scholarship Day, the women of the Junior class who have satisfied the requirements for membership, are pledged to membership. These are the ones who during their Senior year, perpetuate the work of the club.

The Senior women who are members of the club this year are Nan Tuell and Thelma Bestler. They have chosen for their adviser, the Dean of Women, Miss Eleanore Wesner.

The new girls entering school now have a wonderful opportunity to work for this honor. This is the highest honor that can be accorded to a woman at C.P.S. and the Freshman girls are urged to keep membership in the Otlah Club as an ambition throughout their college course.

Be there. 2.30 p. m. next Saturday. Tacoma Stadium.

Y.W.C.A. MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The week beginning with October 1, 1923 has been set aside by the Y.W.C.A. for the annual Membership Drive. Under the supervision of the vice president, Ruth Wheeler, the girls of the student body have been divided into several groups with a captain at the head of each group. It is the duty of these captains to interview the girls in their groups and collect the membership fee of one dollar.

It is hoped that every girl will be ready and anxious to join the Y.W., because a greater Y.W. means a greater spirit of comradeship among the women of the college.

On with the Drive.

RECEPTION FOR COLLEGE FOLKS

Anybody in C.P.S. happy? Come to Epworth Church, Friday nite and get rid of your superfluous feelings. Anybody in C.P.S. lonesome? Come down to Epworth Church and meet the best bunch you ever saw. Is there anyone in C.P.S. who is pining for a really good time? We've got a fine time planned, we're going to have something good to eat and—well, you'd be surprised.

GO 10,500 MILES ON ROLL OF ONLY FIFTY-FIVE DOLLARS

Carlyle Horn and William Schlegel Say that Is Their Record
in Travels

Ten thousand and five hundred miles on $55!

That this is possible has been proved by Carlyle Horn and William Schlegel. They left early last spring from Seattle for New York and Europe by way of the Panama Canal. In a letter dated July 18, they say:

"Antwerp, Belgium, was our first port from New York. We worked our way over on the S. S. Lapland. The nine days of work that we put in on that ship was the hardest that either of us had ever experienced before. We shoveled coal for our passage—but never again.

"Amsterdam, Holland, was our next stop. As we had gone thru the Panama Canal, we were very much at home here, for little waterways are the main highways or traffic.

"Fourteen hours after leaving Amsterdam we were walking around the streets of Berlin. Here is where we went through many novel experiences. For instance: being a millionaire. Can you imagine paying a cool million (marks) for a suit of clothes? Well, we did. The American equivalent for this amount was exactly $10 for, at that time, we were receiving 100,000 marks for a dollar.

"Paris came up to our expectation of being one of the most beautiful cities in Europe. Of course we visited the top of Eiffel tower as well as the Louvre and the palaces at Versailles. We might mention here that the palace of ex-Kaiser Bill at Potsdam is more beautiful than the palace in which the peace treaty was signed.

"One day we spent at Rheims and the battle-front. The four years struggle that this city went through is quite in evidence. The battle scars are gradually vanishing, but such places as the famous Hindenburg line are still as they were in the days of '18.

"Dear 'Ol' Lunnnon' is reputed as being the largest city in the world, but it is far from the best. The most interesting sights were the Tower of London and Westminster Abbey.

"From Newcastle we embarked for Norway. We arrived at Bergen, Norway's second largest city, then proceeded north to Trondheim. In the northern section of Norway the only time we saw darkness (figuratively speaking) was when we went through tunnels."—Ex.

The faculty held their weekly meeting Monday afternoon, but they were all present on Tuesday.

Luella Peterman, a graduate of '21 and Lyle Andrews were married August 31 at Sumner.

BE LOYAL TO YOUR TEAM

The football game that our boys will play Saturday is the first game of the season. Every one must be there and support the team. If you don't get started right at the first game it is hard to reform at the other games. The team needs your presence and they deserve your support. They work faithfully and loyally to give our school a team, and our part is to come to all the games and give them our loyal support. Everybody be sure and be at the game Saturday—it will be well worth your time and yells.

THE SCRAP

The scrap is on and we are glad to see that both the Sophs and Frosh are a peppy enthusiastic crowd, but we are more delighted to see a spirit of fair play in the whole affair. Good sportsmanship is much to be desired and we are glad to see so much displayed on the part of both classes.

DEBATE

Debating is getting an early start this year and if the present enthusiasm and "pep" can be kept up old C.P.S. will be assured of one of the best debate seasons she has ever seen.

The annual fall debate banquet is scheduled for October 5th. At this time announcements concerning the try-outs and prizes will be made. Everyone in the college is invited to this banquet. It is quite probable that the details will be announced the latter part of this week.

The date for the annual Philo-Amphic debate has been tentatively set for November 26. The question which has been chosen is; Resolved: That the Supreme Court should be denied the right to declare acts of Congress unconstitutional. This is a question with two good sides and, considering the rivalry between the two societies, a hard fought battle is being anticipated.

ORATORY

Judging from the sounds that come from the Chapel Annex third period Tuesday and Thursday, the Oratorical contest will be a real contest this year.

There are seven, would be if they could be, orators taking the course under Mrs. Hovious this fall. It is said that they are training on such words as rat, cat, aunt, mice, etc.

Remember the contest is open to everyone. Now is the time to get busy on your orations if you want to collect $75.00 next spring. It's yours if you want it. Don't let anyone in the oratory class get it. Come on gang! Let's show some real C.P.S. pep, just like the kind that is going to lick Washington University October 27th.

CHAPEL NOTES

On Friday, Sept. 21, Dr. Rhodes, pastor of the First Methodist Church, spoke on the subject, "Is the World Growing Better?"

Dr. Rhodes said he sometimes thought the world was both growing better and growing worse at the same time, but he would not want to go back into the past ages.

We are living in a speedy age, in an age of opportunity, and in an age of improvement.

God is at work in the world and it is constantly growing better and better.

Senator Davis of the faculty spoke on "Education" at the Monday chapel service. The phase of the subject which he discussed was that "we should all have a theory and philosophy of life." Each one of us has a divine mission. Oliver Cromwell declared that his mission was to "Serve my God."

BROADWAY AT ELEVENTH

The Stone-Fisher Co. Extends Best Wishes to The Editorial and Business Staffs of VOL. II, NO. 1 OF THE TRAIL

Last year's staff hung up a fine record of achievement, but all records are made to be broken, and we believe you can do it—go to it. We hope your publication grows in size, in circulation, and in influence; and that its readers give this store a fair share of their patronage.

SEEKING GOD

Man is the one animal who leads a dissatisfied life. He is continually seeking something, but he does not know what that something is. He may be likened unto the Athenians, of whom the Apostle Paul tells us, who had an altar dedicated to the Unknown God. This god they were worshipping blindly—not knowing the nature of Him.

Man is seeking to complete his life—to gain the highest degree of perfection. Unknowingly he is seeking God. It is the "God in Man seeking the Man in God."

Having been told of the coming of the Kingdom of God, Man idly asks, "And when shall the Kingdom of God come?" The One Perfect Man answers, "The Kingdom of God is within you." Why should Man seek afar for that which he may find within? Since the Kingdom of God is within Man it follows that God also is within, and easily reached. Therefore the fact that God is within Man, he is by his very nature meant to seek after God.

The process of seeking God may be undertaken successfully in a number of ways. One way is, "Be something that God is." Efficiency of manner and of work will bring that "satisfaction of work well done." It may as truly be said of any man as it was of Stanley and his work in Africa, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, God works, so must man."

"Do something that God does." In this way man can find God by talking to him—by praying. God talks to man, but man does not hear unless he is listening intently. Praying releases the spiritual forces of man whereby he is enabled to "tune in" and receive the vital and inspiring message of God. "Enter into thy closet and pray in secret." Whether taken literally or generally, prayer is fundamental in seeking after God.

"Forgive somebody something." Man is constantly rubbing his fellowmen the wrong way. Even as flashes of light are made by rubbing a cat's fur the wrong way, so are flashes of temper made when man is rubbed the wrong way. All wrongs unto himself are forgiven by the true seeker of God. Forgiveness is the Love going out to the sinner.

AMPHICTYON

"Snow on the mountain,
Sun can't melt it;
We love Amphictyon—
And you can't help it."

A program entitled, "Life History" was enjoyed by our members and friends, last Monday evening in the Amphic room. It included the following numbers:
Violin Solo Hilda Melin
Happiest Time in My Life, Ralph
Brown.
Bluest Time in My Life, Helen Pangborn.
Bravest Thing I Ever Did, Extempo
—Nelson Pierce.
My First Beau, Ellena Hart
Most Foolish Thing I Ever Did,
Extempo—Noble Chowning.
First Pie I Ever Made, Esther

A great disappointment awaited Amphic. Well, what is it? No one served pie. But—here's one consolation—every week has a Monday evening. So here's hoping.

LAMBDA SIGMA CHI

What a busy, happy week this is! The new girls aren't the only ones who are being rushed, say we.
But after it is all over, we can settle down to a happy, worthwhile year together.

We hope the new girls are beginning to feel at home at C. P.
S. We have decided that there's a mighty fine bunch of girls at school this year. We hope they like the older girls just as well.

Well, we'll see you at the football game Saturday. Of course
C. P. S. is going to win, so come out, ye rooters.

PI KAPPA DELTA

For the benefit of the new students, it might be well to explain that Pi Kappa Delta is the National Debate Fraternity of which C. P.
S. has a chapter, known as the Washington Alpha Chapter. Membership is open to all students who take part in intercollegiate debate or oratorical contest. The Pi

KAPPA

Kappa members in school this year
are: Dorothy Wallace, president, Allison Wetmore, vice president,
Mrs. Lynette Hovious, Cor. Sec., Harold Nelson, Sec.-Treas., Betty Reynolds, Ed Newell, Harley Not-ter, Ralph Brown, Dean Henry, Senator Davis and Mr. Stevens, who comes to us from the College of the Pacific.

The first regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Hovious last Wednesday evening. This year we are going to again sponsor the Freshman debates with the Athena, Stevens and Badger Clubs of the University of Washington. Freshman tryouts will be held on Thursday, October 18. Freshman men and women are urged to sign up at once and begin work on the question which is "Resolved that the Ku Klux Klan in the United States should be abolished."

The farce debate at chapel on October 5 will be under the direction of the Pi Kappas.

Pi Kappa lost none of her five debates last year and only one varsity debate was lost. Come on.
Let's make this a live wire year
in debate.

FACULTY AND ALUMNI

At the close of summer school, Senator Walter S. Davis went to North Salm, Indiana, where he visited his old home and celebrated his father's hundredth anniversary.
On his return trip, he stopped in Chicago and was entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Hillis Griffin at their home on Winchester Avenue. Mrs. Griffin was formerly Miss Rose Treibal, a Chicago
teacher and she and Hillis Griffin, a former student at the College of Puget Sound were married last June.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clay (nee Mable Amende) were also guests at the same dinner party. They are both alumni of the college and Mr. Clay is now in his third year at Rush Medical College. Mr. Russell Clay, '22 was invited, but he was unable to be present. He is a student at the Garrett Biblical Institute in Evanston and is also working in the Y.M.C.A. there.

Y.M.C.A. STAG

Last Friday evening the handsome members of the Y.M.C.A.
gathered in the gym to demonstrate a fitting culmination to the spirit and pep that during the day had propelled the membership drive to an almost perfect record.

Undoubtedly many of the Frosh became lost on their way, or had received some knowledge of the reception awaiting them, and decided not to be present. A comparatively good crowd was out, dominated by our human tower, Professor Robbins, and our President. We hope to see the others of our male faculty members present at the next stag.

The main features of the evening were the fencing stunts and the Royal Battle. Standing on kegs, with true knightly nobleness the men punched at each other with woman's modern implements of war, finally ending with a rush of fraternal goodwill as they fell in each others' arms.

Captains Buckley and Wetmore drew up their armies in battle array, the leading warriors were blindfolded and provided with a roll of newspaper, introduced by handshake to their likewise blinded opponent, and then the royal battle began. Slashing and swinging blindly, they pounded their opponents without restraint, the sidelines registering its hardest laugh when Messrs. Wade, Owens, and Anderson got mixed up, each man fighting harder because of the faster tattoo of hits he was getting. Thus the fury continued until the whistle blew for all to participate in volley ball.

At ten o'clock the tired and hungry passed in review before the cider keg and the doughnuts. "Vas" Olene, with his keen observation discovered that there was something in the cider that caused the men to go round and round the keg and doughnut bag. Even so, the cider was weak beside the drink provided for the Frosh men as they journeyed thru the "Isle of Dreams."
It was a profitable evening for the candy retailers, for many preferred sweets to their compounded drinks of quinine and vinegar. The typical Frosh stunt of the evening occurred when one of that class stopped in the line to partake of his refreshments while a frantic line was waiting to reach the cider keg.

The evening ended as it began—
with yells, songs, and handshakes.
Another stag will be held in the near future, and every man join in!

MEMBER OF FRESHMAN CLASS WEDS

The marriage of Miss, Mae Wilkins of Centralia to Dennis Schenk was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Episcopal church at Centralia, the Reverend Frederick Luke officiating. The ceremony was performed in the presence of intimate friends and relatives, Miss Helen Wilkins, sister of the bride, acting as maid of honor, and Everett Buckley, fraternity brother of the groom, acting as best man.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Schenk was secretary to Mrs. McQuesten, superintendent of the State School for girls. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Schenk are now making their home in Tacoma, and are both attending the college. Mr. Schenk is a member of the freshman class, while Mrs. Schenk is a sophomore. She spent her freshman year at Pull-

Bride—Don't I, dear? Why do you think I should look tired?

JOKES

"Hey, Druggist, you gave my wife arsenic instead of sleeping powders."

"That's all right, you only owe me fifteen cents more."

—C—P—S—

Hey diddle diddle,
Please answer this riddle—
I spent four full years in college;
And now that I'm thru,
What the deuce can I do
With fifteen degrees and my knowledge?

—C—P—S—

Cop—What is your business?
Prisoner—I am a locksmith.

Cop—Well, what were you doing in the gambling house we just raided?

Prisoner—When you came in I was making a bolt for the door.

—C—P—S—

"Profesor Simp is a musician;
he wrote 'Marge'."
"Did she answer him?"

—C—P—S—

Frosh—They won't let me play
my wind instrument in the band.
Soph—Bass horn or saxophone?
Frosh—Neither; electric fan.

—C—P—S—

It was an evening in dear old Chekko-Slovakia.
The lights were dim. Suddenly a man came running out of a side street.

"What's the matter?" asked the curious policeman.

"I am frightened," said the runner.

"But why are you frightened?"
asked the policeman.

"I just passed a bad Chekk," replied the runner.

—C—P—S—

I was severely reprimanded by Jim Mitchell for not having his name in the Joke Column.

We appreciate good jokes so we'll put his name in three times—
Mitchell—Mitchell—Mitchell

—C—P—S—

There once was a Cannibal Chef
Who cooked for a Cannibal King.
He looked thru his larder for food
And found he had hardly a thing.
A freshman he spied by some chance And cooked the poor boy with string beans.

"You fool," cried the king in his wrath,

"Doc told me I mustn't eat greens."

—C—P—S—

Passerby—Have an accident?
Motorist (coming from under the mangled remains of his car)—No
thanks; I just had one.

—C—P—S—

A rooster who was not very well satisfied with his hens one day found an ostrich egg. Gathering his wives he showed it to them saying—

"I don't mean to belittle your attempts, but just look what other folks are doing."

—C—P—S—

"Haff you seen my spectacles, Abie?"

"Vy, dere on your nose, fadder."

"Abie, how many times haff I told you not to be so indefinite."

Prof.—You seem to be very sleepy. Were you out late last night?

Olene—I had to sit up with the baby, sir.

Prof.—How old was the baby.

—C—P—S—

"Oi! Oi! Lemuel. Vat you tink?
I vas arrested today for speedink."

"Vat you? Vy you haff no car, haff you?"

"No, not that. Speedink on the sidewalk."

—C—P—S—

College Grad—I'm a college man
and I want a position.

Employer—No college man will ever work in this place as long as I am boss.

College Grad—Who mentioned work?

—C—P—S—

"They're off!" cried the old lady as she viewed the inmates of the insane asylum.

—C—P—S—

Bone rims do not a student make
Nor fountain pen a scholar;
Any boob can quickly buy
A brief case for a dollar.
If one wears knickers to a tea
A bath robe in the dorm,
Then one will know that one will show
The perfect student form.

—C—P—S—

Prof.—How much does a six pound shell weigh?

Frosh—I don't know.

Prof.—Well, when does the twelve o'clock train leave?

Frosh—Twelve o'clock.

Prof.—Then how much does a six pound shell weigh?

Frosh—Twelve pounds.

—C—P—S—

"You know this Cream O' Wheat nigger? Well, he's gone in the movies."

"Really?"

"Yes, I've seen him in a lot of cereal pictures."

—C—P—S—

"Pretty good looking Ford you have, Bieson, what is the most you have got out of it?"

"Six times in a mile."

—C—P—S—

Skinny Chorus Girl—Gee, I wish
I was a star.

Star—Well perhaps you would look better if you were a little meteor.

—C—P—S—

He (at music counter)—Have you
"Hot Lips"?

She (behind the counter)—No,
they are chapped, but that's none
of your business.

—C—P—S—

If a lamb
Gambols,
And you grab a lamb
By the leg,

Would you be pinching
A gamboling
Joint?

—C—P—S—

Pretty young thing to Horse
Blevins:

She—Are you very strong?

Horse (modestly)—What can I do for you, little girl?

She—Oh, I was just wondering if you could break this twenty dollar bill.

—C—P—S—

Little Jimmie—Mother, if baby swallowed the gold fish could he swim like them?

Mother—My heavens, child, they would kill him.

Jimmie—But they didn't.

—C—P—S—

Isaac—Oi, Oi, der wedding invitations says .R.S.V.P. Vot does dot mean?

Jacob—Oh, such ignorance. That means bring Real Silver Wedding Presents.

—C—P—S—

"Stepping out Bill?"

"No, my brother got up before I did."
